

A Write out what each person is saying using the words given. Every sentence is a 'conditional' sentence, but you will need to decide if it is a 'first conditional' – If it rains I'll stay at home, or a 'second conditional' – If it rained I'd stay at home.

Example:

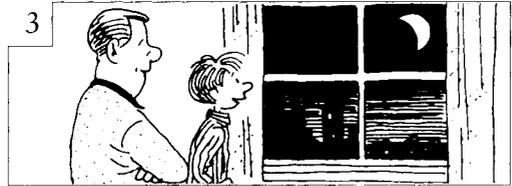

I have boat like that/I never live on land
_____ If I had a boat like that
I'd never live on land.

1 you need anything/I get it for you

2 not be raining/I go swimming

3 I can fly/I go to the moon

4 not right size/I bring back

5 I younger/I join you

B You are going to Portsmouth, a seaside town, for the day tomorrow. You are telling George about your plans. Use your thoughts on the left to complete your sentences on the right. In each sentence use either the 'first conditional' or 'second conditional'.

Example:

You want to go swimming.
The sea might be warm enough.

I 'll go swimming
if the sea's warm enough.

1 You want to visit the Science Museum but it isn't open.

I _____
if _____

2 You want to buy some new clothes.
The shops might be open.

If _____
I _____

3 You want to go to the island, but it's too far.

I _____
if _____

4 You want to go to the zoo; but only in nice weather.

If _____
I _____

5 You want to sail around the harbour; but there won't be enough time.

I _____
