OBJECTS QUIZ – extension

Verb to be + Adjectives: They are small.

Present Simple Passive: They are used to open doors. They are made of metal.

Present Simple: Nearly everyone uses them.

Working in small teams of two to three players, get the students to write three descriptions of everyday objects. As they do this, go round the class checking (a) that there is not too much duplication of objects between the teams; (b) that the descriptions are correctly expressed; (c) that the objects are not too easy to guess. The teams then take it in turn to read out their descriptions and challenge the other teams to guess what their objects are. The teams should write their answers down after consultation with their fellow team members. Award points (1 point per correct answer) and work out team totals after each round.

Hints: If nobody can guess what the object is, encourage the team which is reading out the description to supply further clues, e.g., They are very important. People have a big problem if they lose them. Some people attach them to their belts.
