Exercise 3: In or out?

Talk to your partner and think about what is fashionable nowadays. Complete these sentences about youth fashion with vocabulary from the previous exercises. Try to write a different word in each gap. Choose the correct verb form: is or are.

- _____ is/are old-fashioned.
- _____ is/are definitely out at the moment.
- _____ is/are making a comeback right now.
- _____ is/are the 'in' thing at the moment.
- _____ is/are very trendy.
- _____ is/are on the way out now.

Exercise 4: Tattoo role-play

You want a tattoo. Here is what other people around you think about the idea.

Your mother hates the idea and will not let you have one under any circumstances.

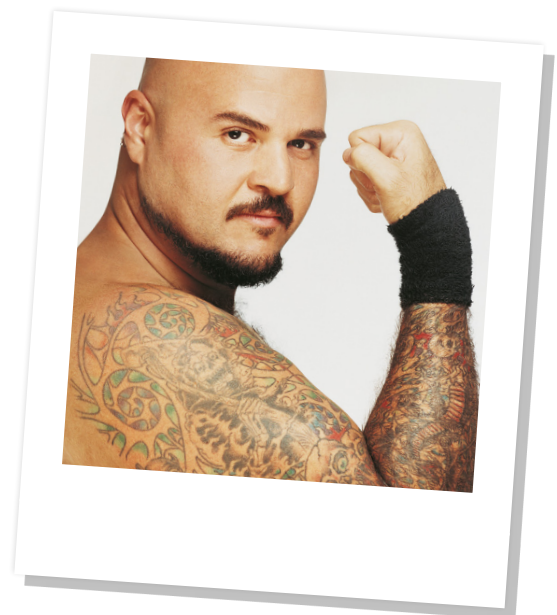

Your father had a tattoo when he was younger, but he had it surgically removed some years ago. He now thinks tattoos are a mistake.

Your elder brother/sister is 18 and has a tattoo, but he/she hasn't told your parents because he/she knows they wouldn't like it.

A friend who is 16 has a tattoo on her shoulder. Her parents let her have it because it can't be seen. Your friend's mother also has a tattoo.

Your grandfather/grandmother has seen a lot of young people with tattoos and doesn't see why his/her grandchild can't have one. He/she doesn't understand what all the fuss is about.

Imagine that you and the people above are having lunch together. You mention the fact that you want to have a tattoo. Either (1) role-play the situation with your classmates or (2) write the discussion over lunch that follows your comment. Include everybody in the discussion.

Exercise 5: Fashion discussion

Do you agree with these statements? Discuss the topics with a classmate.

1. 'You can tell what a person is like by looking at their clothes.'
2. 'Fashion helps you belong to a group and make friends.'
3. 'Fashion is just a way to make money out of young people.'
4. 'People who follow fashion are sheep with no ideas of their own.'
5. 'Pierced eyebrows and tongues are disgusting.'
6. 'It's my body and I'll do what I want with it.'

Now write three statements of your own about fashion, and share them with your classmates.
